LOCAL BUZZINGS.

News Notes—Personal Paragraphs and Other Doings at Home Worthy of Special Mention

We've all had Christmas. Ripans Tabules cure indigestion. Very few of our citizens are recorded as having "a little too much Christmas."

It costs seventy-five days in the work-house to carry concealed deadly weapons in Hopkinsville.

John Temple Graves, Georgia's greatest orator, can be heard in Madisonville the evening of January 3d.

The B. R. T. ball next Monday evening, January 2, 1893, at the Masonic Hall, this city, will, indeed, be an enjoyable affair.

Those wishing to hear Sam Jones will have an opportunity to do so. He will begin a series of meetings at Hopkinsville next Sunday.

Loch Mary is frozen over, and everybody who owns, or can borrow a pair of skates is glad of it. Large crowds are to be seen there at all hours.

Louis Neicum, of Owensboro, is in jail at Greenville, Ky., charged with writing scurrilous letters to a number of young ladies of that town.

Only one ducking reported and that was on Tuesday when Geo. Toy skated into an air-hylo on the lake. Beside a good wetting, he escaped unharmed.

Miss Pauline Davis gave an enjoyable party to her young friends Tuesday evening at her home. Dancing, games and other amusements were the order of the evening.

Section Foreman Dan Cates, of Slaughter, was married last Tuesday, at Kelley's, a Miss Brashers being the fortunate lady. Congratulations, Dan, and may you live long and be happy.

The Hecla public school closed last week, after a five months' session. Miss Alice Mitchell, of Madisonville, was teacher the season just closed, and has given perfect satisfaction.

The mails for the past few days have been the heaviest ever handled in this city. Postmaster Farnsworth was equal to the emergency, and is not a candidate for the office under the incoming administration.

For pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus there is nothing better than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by St. Bernard drug store, Earlington; Ben T. Robinson, Morions Gap, and Geo. King, St. Charles.

Miss Mary Kale, the 16-year-old daughter of Thos. Kale, of Central City, was burned to death Christmas eve. Her clothing caught fire from lighted candles on a Christmas tree. Her body was burned to a crisp, and presented a ghastly spectacle.

Will P. Scott was in the city Monday, and informs us that he has no intention whatever of again entering the newspaper business. But will shortly take a position as commercial tourist for a clothing house in Louisville. He is also interested in a recent purchase of a drug store in Central City.

W. H. Overby, Postmaster at Henderson, was attacked on Monday by Dennis O'Callahan and received a painful cut in his left arm. The assaulting party escaped. The trouble grew from a Christmas present O'Callahan's wife had received. The irate husband took for granted that Overby was the Santa Claus in the case, hence the assault.

Since Saturday last skaters have been having genuine sport on Loch Mary's smooth surface. Skating has never been more enjoyable than it has been this recent freeze. A smooth surface of nearly two acres, as Loch Mary affords, is not to be found in every community. Earlington people are proud of their lake and of the amusement it affords at all seasons of the year.

An Owensboro paper tells the following on one of the street car drivers of that city: "Owensboro streets at their best are not much to brag on, and the last few days of alternate freeze and thaw, snow and rain, have not helped their condition. The other day a lady living on one of our worst and most frequented thoroughfares stopped a car. It was quite muddy at that point, but to go further was to fare worse. The driver got off the car, and after endeavoring to pack down the mud into something like solidity, and finding it a failure, set his foot in the mud and said 'Lady if you will step on my foot you can get on the car without getting muddy.'"

Thanks. The teachers and pupils of the public school desire to express their sincere thanks to the people who aided so much in making the supper a success, and also to those who gave them the free use of the hall. The amount raised was about $26.

A Parents Best Gift to a Son. In a scholarship for the business course, or the phonographic or telegraphic courses at the renowned Commercial College of Kentucky University. For circulars address Wilber R. Smith, Lexington, Ky. See advertisement.

The School Supper.

The supper given by the children of the public school, at Masonic Hall, last Friday night was a much enjoyed and well attended. The receipts were upwards of twenty-five dollars. The purpose of the supper was to raise funds with which to purchase an organ for the school. To the children, their teachers and mothers much praise is due. Meeting with the success they did, they will in the near future, give a concert, that they may have money enough to make payment in full on an organ already purchased.

New Postage Stamp.

The postmaster general has decided to issue what will be known as the Columbian series of postage stamps under a contract signed recently. The new stamps will be of the same height as the present series, but twice as wide, the increased size being thought necessary to properly display the illustrations. These are intended to commemorate the discovery of America by Columbus. It is expected that the entire series will be put on sale January 1, 1893, and during the succeeding year will entirely supersede the present series.

The Kentucky Delegation.

The Kentucky delegation in the Fifty-third Congress will be: First district—W. J. Stone, Democrat. Second—W. T. Ellis, Democrat. Third—H. H. Goodnight, Democrat. Fourth—A. B. Montgomery, Democrat. Fifth—A. S. Berry, Democrat. Seventh—W. C. P. Breckinridge, Democrat. Eighth—J. B. McCreary, Democrat. Ninth—J. H. Payne, Democrat. Tenth—W. C. Lisle, Democrat. Eleventh—Silas Adams, Republican.

Jail Delivery in Clarksville.

Last Wednesday night five prisoners, Harry Jones, house-breaking; Bailey Winters, Jas. Rinehart, horse-stealing and William Allen, escapee from the Clarksville jail and are still at large. These prisoners were together with one or two others were confined together in a large iron cage in the second story of the jail. A wooden key made from a piece of broom handle was used in unlocking the upper padlock. The center lock was opened by means of a key made out of an oyster can. The door was then pressed open and the five men passed out of the cage. Blackens were tied together and used as means of lowering themselves to the ground, a distance of twenty-five feet. Avant and the other two prisoners were offered a hand in the escape but they refused to enter into the plot. They were then told that if the secret was divulged they would be killed on the spot. The men stole Avant's shoes and seventy cents in cash, which he had to buy tobacco, before leaving—Kentucky.

A Sad Death.

Sheep Ashmore passed away at his home, three miles south of St. Charles. Again our community has been invaded by the remorseless reaper: once more we mourn and mingle our sorrow, and offer our sympathy to a bereaved family in a sore affliction.

Sheep Ashmore was a well-to-do farmer of the St. Charles community, and died at his home at 5 o'clock p. m. Friday, December 23, 1892. Deceased was confined to his room for several months with that dread disease, consumption, where he laid in a conscious state until death came to his relief. He leaves a helpless mother, 92 years of age, and four children to mourn his loss. He was about 50 years of age.

Sheep Ashmore was a noble man, a true gentleman, and in his death the community has lost one of its best citizens. He was a gentleman of vigorous intellect; of wide and varied accomplishments; his ready mind stimulated by worthy ambition explored many of the most unfrequented fields of literature, and had drank deeply from the fountain of scientific lore. His society was sought and enjoyed by most cultured people; he was a member of the Christian church, with which he connected himself many years ago. While we deplore his loss, we extend to his family our profound sympathy, and pray that they and we may like him prepare for the great beyond, where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

If you have any visitor—send us their names for mention in this column. We will appreciate the favor.

Ed Robinson is spending the holidays at home.

Jeane Kellner, of Henderson, is visiting in the city.

Harry Bramwell, of Nashville, is visiting friends here.

Miss Cammie Baker, of Paducah, is visiting friends here.

Miss Cora Bishop will leave in a few days for St. Louis.

S. O. Stevens will spend New Year at Henderson with relatives.

Mrs. T. E. Holt, of Hopkinsville, returned home on Tuesday.

Rob Fisk and Maurice Cotton, of Madisonville, were in town Tuesday.

J. F. Tefft, and daughter, of Nortonville, were in our city yesterday.

Miss Emma Speed, of Madisonville, is the guest of Miss Lucy Crenshaw.

Wm. Barnett, of Manion, spent Sunday with his brother, Jno. T. Barnett.

R. P. Farnsworth and family, of Henderson, are visiting relatives in this city.

Yandell Walker, of Kansas City, spent Christmas with his mother, Mrs. Ida Walker of this city.

Mrs. Wm. McCarty and family are spending the holidays with Mrs. Grainger at Springfield, Tenn.

Mrs. George Parrish, Miss Denie Parrish and Thos. Wilson, of Hanson, are visiting the family of Judge S. O. Stevens, of this city.

It Is a Fact.

That Christmas comes but once a year. That even if it was Xmas eve the law shouldn't have been violated—but it was. That it was cold when this was written, no matter how hot you are when it's read. That one young society man in town wears a hip all the colors of the rainbow, the result of too many falls on the ice while skating.

That our police pulled 'em for gettin drunk. Whether drunk on Madisonville or Henderson whiskey it made no difference—Five dollars and costs.

That true love goes sometimes by contraries.

Your wife whips you when you're drunk. She has no occasion to do so when you are sober and sensible.

That some Tom, Dick or Harry was naughty and went "herhollop." Somebody's grandfather merely tossed him over the counter. No bones broken.

That the wrecker was not called out to remove the obstruction found on the track near No. 9 tip, on Sunday afternoon. The obstruction, however, was taken home by hand and put to bed.

That an inquiry for Christmas games and the prices thereof was answered by the affable clerk that the ladies would have to call again in the morning, as that was the time farmers generally came to town.

That a young grocer on "Wall street," this city, used an Irish potato for washing, instead of soap, the three days preceding Christmas. When told that he had been doing, he said he had saved that much soap by the operation, a fact no one disputed.

That Marshal Barnett is never at a loss where to put his man. When asked to quiet a drunken man on the train last Monday he stepped on board and shut him up in the corner of the smoking car, telling him he would be released when he reached his destination.

MADISONVILLE.

Get your seats for to-night.

Jim Franceway was in Evansville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Baty, of Nashville, are in the city.

Wallace Sich, of Nashville, was in the city Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Waddill went to Hopkinsville.

Miss Mary Crawford has returned from Decatur, Ala.

Maurice King, of St. Louis, was in the city Tuesday.

The New York Stars at Ray's Opera House to-night.

Miss Maud Wynn, of Providence, is visiting in the city.

John Temple Graves at the Christian church January 3d.

W. Nibbet, of Evansville, visited relatives in the city Sunday.

A candy-pull was booked at Miss Sammie Nibbet's last evening.

Miss Emma Prewitt is spending the holidays in Clarksville, Tenn.

C. A. Waller, of McPherson, Kan., is expected here next month.

Miss Sallie Glover, of McLean county, is visiting Miss Sallie Wells.

Yandell Walker, of Kansas City, visited friends in the city this week.

Miss Katie West, of Hopkinsville, is the guest of Miss Ella Lala.

Miss Ella Pratt is spending the holidays with friends and relatives in town.

Judge T. J. Nunn has come to this place, preparatory to moving his family here.

While the thermometer is hovering around zero, skating is good on the lake.

John and Robert Shackelford, of Owensboro, Ky., and Annapolis, Md., are in the city.

The Library party to be given at the Lucile to-morrow evening promises to be the social event of the holidays.

The merchants did a rushing business last week, the sales are said to exceed those of any time previous on like occasions.

The young ladies of the "younger crowd" gave a leap year banquet at the residence of Dr. T. W. Gardner last Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Dr. Baker entertained a number of young ladies and gentlemen at her home last Saturday evening. An elegant supper was laid and all had an enjoyable evening.

The Cantata "Joy Bells" was produced at the Christian church Tuesday evening, by the children of the Sunday school. The exercises were interesting and a good audience was present.

Hear Miss Anita Lassen. Hear Miss Flora Drecher. Hear Desney Heywood. Hear Scott Heywood. Hear S. Homer Eaton.

All of those tonight at Ray's Opera House to-night. Seats on sale at Gardner & Holeman's.

The gentlemen contingents of the Chautauque gave the lady members of the club a surprise last Monday evening in the form of a supper. The refreshments were served at the residence of Mrs. Ernest Sped. The house was brilliantly illuminated in honor of the occasion and those who participated, report a pleasant evening.

SHOT IN THE HEAD.

The colored citizens of Hanson Enliven Things With a Shooting Affray.

The colored people of Hanson had a Christmas tree at their church last Monday night. All went merry until Sam Hutchinson and his wife engaged in a war of words over some trivial matter. Hutchinson and wife have been at odds for some time, and several months ago while he was employed as a section hand on the railroad, his wife refused to live with him for some unknown reason.

Their meeting last Monday night gave rise to a quarrel, and Hutchinson becoming enraged, drew his pistol and deposited a bullet in his wife's temple.

Dr. Hayes was summoned and pronounced the wound dangerous.

County Attorney Waddill went down Tuesday to investigate the affair. Up to that date the woman was living, though it is more than likely that the wound will prove fatal.

KILLED BY THE CARS.

Dr. W. F. Long, a Highly Respected Citizen of this City, is Horribly Mangled at Edgfield Junction.

Dr. W. F. Long, well and favorably known in this city and whose family has resided here for some time, met with a sad accident last Friday evening, which resulted in death. The doctor was formerly a resident of Adams, Tenn., and upon leaving the practice of medicine, became a traveling salesman.

At the time of this accident, he was at Edgfield Junction, visiting the debris of the recent wreck at that place, in attempting to cross the tracks to have his baggage checked, was run over by a train and was run over by same, cutting off both legs near the hips. Amputation was found to be necessary and the family was telegraphed immediately.

They left on the first train but before they reached him he had passed away. This was one of the saddest deaths.

Our neighbor Haley had a tree loaded with beautiful things.

Our own dear Jake was fairly carried away with Christmas.

Everything just "a freezin'" hereabouts—so cold it can't help it.

This section of Hopkins County is all right if the year 1892 is about leaving us.

Our girls are not to blame, so they say, that this year has nearly left them and they are still unmarried.

We wished our Crabtree friend of the quill a merry Christmas, and here's two to one that he had it.

Some of our people ought to go to Hopkinsville to see Sam Jones, and I guess they'll be going—some of them.

What will be done New Year? The "red-eye" gave out Christmas. The demand for exceeded the supply, it is said.

Where is there another little city our size that can show up more games on a Christmas? If anywhere, it is over about Dargus.

CHARLESTON.

Age of Economy.

Is here. The question is where will your dollars do the most good. Yucatan Chilli Tonic will cure any case of chills for 50c. It does it with ease. Pleasant to take. Children take it as willingly as they would syrup. Every bottle warranted. Price 50c, at Robinson Bros' drug store.

ILSLEY.

Judge Salmon was in Dawson Friday. John Miller was in Dawson on the 23rd. Mrs. John Harland went to St. Charles on the 22nd.

Santa Claus came direct from the clouds and made a great success.

The Major distributed the shekels early on Christmas eve, and all Ilesley was happy.

There will be no school this week as Miss Mattie Daves will spend the Holidays at home.

The Christmas tree was beautiful as a dream, and the ladies evidently understand the art of decorating.

L. Stokes came down from Powderly to spend Christmas with his relatives. Rumor hath it that when next he comes he will be a married man.

Scott Carroll makes a genial host refreshment without costs and meals at all hours at his house. But how can he help being good when he is a full brother to our great and only Col. J. N.?

Our W. H. Cook says he has seen a good many Christmas trees in his lifetime, but he wants to say that never did he see one that was so well conducted or gave such general satisfaction as ours.

Jas. Lacy, Wm. Cook and A. T. Bone went to see Uncle Billy Williams, way up on Buffalo in the Dargus country. Of course they had special business, we suppose it was Christmas business.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Salmon were in Earlington and Madisonville the latter part of last week, and the Christmas tree bore ample evidence of their trip. Mr. K. M. deserves the highest praise, for never was so small an amount of money laid out to such good advantage.

Our Col. Carroll went to St. Charles on the 24th, where he took part in a family reunion. The brothers W. H. David, M. G. W. J. N. (our Colonel), N. B. and David S. Carroll were all there and with their numerous circle of acquaintances made a fine party. At least two persons were present and they could all dance. Monck says: "We danced all night till broad daylight and went home with the girls in the morning."

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Lacey entertained Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Bone, Bud Ridley, wife and daughter, Nola, Wm. H. Cook and family, Jack Perry (alias Jack Jackson), Mrs. Lute Bone and family, Mrs. Deacon Hall and Miss Lizzie Harland. The dinner was given as a compliment to the Masonic brothers of the host. As well as we can learn it was a very enjoyable affair and the guests all speak highly in praise of the host and hostess, and say they wish Christmas would come often if it would always bring such pleasant times.

B. F. Farrow, painter and paper-hanger.

MORTON'S GAP.

Xmas is over.

Miss Jennie Morton is visiting in Tennessee.

Chas. Todd is the happiest man in town. It is a boy.

Dr. Almon and family are visiting relatives in Tennessee.

W. H. Edwards received a valuable present of the Xmas tree.

Misses Katie Hancock and Cordie Trathen are visiting friends here.

Mr. Charles Rice, of Texas, is visiting his brother, B. C. Rice, of this place.

Dr. Loran jumped from a freight train last Sunday night and was badly bruised.

Everybody enjoyed themselves highly at the pound party at Davis' hall, Tuesday night.

Leslie Robinson had his hand badly burned by a sky-rocket, which exploded prematurely.

Misses Emma and Grace Coil, of Madisonville, are the guests of Miss Cordie Coil, of this place.

Prof. C. B. Pitman's school closed on last Friday. He will commence a subscription school the 16th of January. Miss Lula Clark, of Crofton, will be his assistant.

We are sorry to learn of the death of one of R. K. Loran's children, which has been sick for some time. Kind parents, weep not for its soul is now with its Maker, and its body is consigned to mother earth.

The committees appointed to attend to the Xmas tree deserve great credit for the manner in which they performed their duties, as it was a grand success. There were over 600 people to witness the distribution of the numerous presents.

R. D. Gatling and Miss Sallie O'Brien, Mr. Davis and Miss Georgia Loran eloped to Springfield and were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony. We extend to these young people our hearty congratulations and trust that they may grow happier as time goes by.

B. F. Farrow will do your painting and will do it right.
